

The Monarch Butterfly and Milkweed

Milkweed is the only host plant for the Monarch butterfly. Monarch caterpillars feed exclusively on the leaves of milkweed so it is necessary for their survival. The removal of milkweed in farms, cities, and landscapes have caused Monarch numbers to plummet. Planting native milkweed is an easy way to help them.

