

Anna's Hummingbird

Anna's Hummingbirds are the only hummingbirds to stay in Oregon year-round, bringing welcome color. Males have green and gray bodies and head and neck feathers that shine bright pink in the sunlight. They eat nectar from flowers, sugar-water from hummingbird feeders, sap from holes in trees, small insects, and spiders.

