

The Pygmy Nuthatch

Pygmy nuthatches are tiny birds with large, round heads, no neck, and straight sharp bills. Their legs and wings are short and they have a short and square tail. They are energetic—always moving, and are very chatty. They climb pine trees and search underneath bark for seeds and insects. They have tight-knit families and usually live in groups.

